

Pre-angled SM Ferrules

US Conec's single-mode ferrules are now offered with a molded, pre-angled 8° endface. This product enhancement reduces polishing steps, consumables, and the need for multiple polishing fixtures during the manufacture of single-mode cable assemblies which directly reduces the operational cost of the end product. The pre-angled ferrules continue to meet or exceed all relevant industry standards and requirements.